Summary

Hi, I am Rikesh Shah.

I've been in the sales field for over 23 years, and have managed the state of Gujarat across various roles.

I am capable of training and appointing new sales officers. My network has allowed me to appoint various SE, SO, TSI, and even ASM, and my experience has helped me train them in the ways of the company.

In budding companies, I have proved myself capable of building the sales infrastructure from the ground up. In stable companies, I have been able to manage and upgrade on the existing sales infra, including product launches and placements, as well as designing sales schemes, and countering competition's moves.

I have also been able to manage my relationships with my dealers and distributors, which have been helpful in better management of the product placement and marketing.

I can help your company at any stage of its sales growth including

- New area
- New customers
- New consumers
- New sales staff.

Thank You.
